MTSU Blue Raider football players held a football clinic for 24 special children on Thursday.

The clinic was put on for children who attend Camp Ability, a summer day-camp in Murfreesboro, TN, for children with special needs. The players taught the children how to throw, catch, kick, and run with a football.

“The kids had an incredible time and got to experience the joy of playing football,” said Brandon Deal, Camp Ability Director. “MTSU athletics have been so wonderful in supporting what we do here at camp.”
